Machine shop, group C, Edward Long, first, Ronald Ponsell, second, Sandy Willis, third.

Weather to Decide Place of Holding School Exercises

Some 222 young graduates and a half dozen school officials were worried today, all because the weatherman has not been cooperating in plans for commencement exercises of Glynn Academy tonight.

Because of such a large number of graduates and the many members of their families and friends who desire to attend, it was announced some time ago that the exercises would be held in Sidney Lanier Field, rather than in the Memorial Auditorium, which has a seating capacity that would accommodate only a small number of those who plan to attend.

The very inclement weather has prevented the graduates from rehearsing at Lanier Field. The first full rehearsal was held this morning. Rehearsals also have been held at the auditorium.

When questioned today, Supt. R. E. Hood said all concerned were hoping for fair weather this afternoon and tonight. However, the outlook early this afternoon was not too encouraging and widely scattered showers have been predicted.

However, Mr. Hood said that the exercises will be held at the ball park unless there is a heavy rain late this afternoon or tonight. If a change is made, he said, notice will be given. In the event it becomes necessary to have the exercises at the auditorium each member of the class will be given three tickets, and admission of course will be only by ticket.

Glynn Academy Class Night to Be Held Tonight

Graduating Exercises
At Lanier Field
On May 31

The first of the series of commencement programs at Glynn Academy will be presented at the Memorial Auditorium tonight, when class night will be observed by the senior class.

"Chasing Rainbows" will be presented and a number of the members of the class will participate.

In order to accommodate all who desire to attend, graduating exercises this year will be held at Lanier Field. This program will be on Friday night, May 31. With 222 members of the graduating class, school officials realize that there will not be sufficient seating capacity in the auditorium for the families, relatives and friends of the large number of graduates, therefore it was decided to have the exercises at the football park.

In the event of rain, however, it will be necessary to shift the exercises back to the auditorium.

Graduating exercises of the Junior High School will be held in the auditorium of that school on Monday night, June 3, when an unusually large class will receive certificates of promotion, entitling them to enter Glynn Academy when schools reopen in September.

The class night program includes a number of features, the first part being songs by the boy members of the class, by the girl members and by the entire class. The songs include "Red Sails in the Sunset," "Follow Me," "Tell Me Why," "My Own True Love," "I'll Walk With God," and "Somewhere Over the Rainbow."

Officers of the class are Robin Gilbert, president; Kenny Thompson, vice president, and Ray Garris, secretary-treasurer. The class superlatives are:

Best looking, Willou Copeland. Billy Dobbs; best dressed, Gloria Smith, Charles Berry; cutest, Laura Parker, Kenny Thompson; most humorous, Edna Gay, Denny Bledsoe; most intelligent, Patricia Griffin, Sandy Mock; most likely to succeed, Beth Smith, Paul Bolen; most athletic, Melba Mallard, Ray Garris; best all-round, Robin Gilbert, John Quarterman.

Miss Eugenia Durham is the faculty adviser, Miss Barbara Thompson, music director, and Anne Tucker, class night chairman.

Large Class to Graduate Here On Friday Night

Exercises Will Be Held at Sidney
Lanier Field

The largest number of students ever to graduate at Glynn Academy, the local high school, will receive their diplomas in interesting commencement exercises at Lanier Field Friday night, the program to begin at 8:30 o'clock.

As has previously been announced, the exercises will be held at the football field, where there is ample seating capacity for all who desire to attend, but if bad weather should prevail, the scene will be shifted to the Memorial Auditorium, and in that event admission will be by ticket.

As has been the custom with the high school for a number of years, all of the addresses will be delivered by honor members of the class, and the theme this year is a very interesting one: "Speak Ye Golden Isle." The complete program for the exercises is as follows:

Processional, "Pomp and Chivalry," Charles J. Roberts.

Song, "They Call it America," class and band.

Invocation, the Rev. Harry V. Chafin.

"Cumberland," Hamlin Boswell.

"Jekyll," Patricia Griffin.

"Sea Island," Sanford Mock.

"Sapelo," Rebecca Browning.

"St. Simons," James R. Bruce, Jr.

Song, "Alma Mater," class and audience.

Presentation of class to superintendent, James A. Warren, principal of Glynn Academy.

Presentation of class to Board of Education, R. E. Hood, superintendent of schools.

Delivery of diplomas, W. A. Whittle, president Board of Education.

Song, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," class and band.

The following awards, all presented by the Brunswick Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be presented the winners:

Award for proficiency in home economics, award for excellence in American history, and good citizenship award for girls.

Public Schools Enter Last Week Of 1956-57 Term

Fine Baccalaureate
Sermon Was Heard
Sunday

Glynn County public schools entered into the last week of the 1956-57 term today, and during most of the week teachers and students alike will be busy with final examinations and rehearsing for commencement exercises of Glynn Academy and Junior High School.

Memorial Auditorium was filled to overflowing yesterday by the many graduates of Glynn Academy, members of their families, friends and others, and all present heard a very fine sermon delivered by the Rev. Hugh Baumgartner, himself a graduate of the local high school, being a member of the class of 1939. He is now pastor of a large Lutheran church in Macon.

The Rev. Mr. Baumgartner was highly praised today by school officials, teachers, students and others who heard his excellent sermon.

Besides a few songs by the members of the graduating class, there was no other special program during the service.

As has been previously announced, graduating exercises of Glynn Academy will be held Friday night at Lanier Field, where there is ample seating capacity for the large number who plan to attend. Families of the graduates and others who attend will occupy seats in the large grandstand, while members of the graduating class will be seated on a stand in front of the grandstand.

It was stated today, however, that rehearsals will be held during the week both at the ball park and at Memorial Auditorium. If good weather prevails, the exercises will be held at the ball park and tickets will not be necessary, but if inclement weather prevails and a switch has to be made to the auditorium, admittance will be by ticket because it is realized the seating capacity of the building is not sufficient to accommodate all who desire to attend.

Final examinations are being held in the high school as well as the other schools this week, and many of the students will not be required to report at the usual school hours.

Commencement exercises for Junior High School will be held next Monday night in the auditorium of that school, when a large number of students will receive their certificates of graduation, entitling them to enter Glynn Academy when schools re-open in September.

222 Graduates of Glynn Academy Get Diplomas

Interesting Program Enjoyed Last Night At Lanier Field

The weather man really behaved himself last night to the delight of 222 Glynn Academy graduates, Board of Education officials, teachers and hundreds of members of the families of the graduates and others who attended the graduating exercises of the high school at Sidney Lanier Field last night.

Rain threatened throughout the day until late afternoon, when the sun made its first appearance of the day and from then on fine, but rather cool weather prevailed.

The program was held at the football field because there was ample room in the stadium to seat the many who planned to attend, while had the exercises been at the Memorial Auditorium only a limited number of people could have attended.

All of the addresses were by honor students of the class, and they drew many fine comments from the audience. The large class, 222, were seated in chairs on the ground, while the speakers stepped upon an improvised stand to make their addresses. A loud speaker was used and everyone could hear the address very distinctly.

"Speak Ye Golden Isles," was the theme of the program, and the speakers were Hamlin Boswell, Patricia Griffin, Sanford Mock, Rebecca Browning and James R. Bruce. The subject of each was one of the nearby local islands, and their talks were all enjoyed.

The invocation was by the Rev. Harry V. Chafin, and after the program the class was presented to the superintendent by James A. Warren, principal of Glynn Academy, and the class was presented to the Board of Education by R. E. Hood, superintendent of schools.

Diplomas were delivered to the graduates by W. A. Whittle, president of the Board of Education. The graduates had been seated in order of their names and in this way the diplomas were passed out in rapid order.

Winners of three awards offered by the Brunswick Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution were presented as follows:

Award for proficiency in home economics, Annie McDaniel; award for excellence in American history, LaNette Howard; good citizenship award, Elizabeth Smith.

My dear Graduate

One of the great thrills of my life was my graduation from high school. It seems to me that all graduates look back upon that occasion as a great high light of their lives.

To let you know that I appreciate your fine accomplishment and share in your sense of achievement, I am enclosing a certificate that I hope you will cherish as a memento and a token of my high esteem

Sincerely yours
Iris Faircloth Blitch
